

Measured (thick) and simulated (thin) FTIR transmission through Sn-doped Ga₂O₃ sample annealed at 1000 °C for the indicated times assuming a particular combination of fast-but-limited and slow compensating defect introduction process.